Purpose of and legal basis for processing your personal data

We process your data so that, if your relative suffers an emergency that threatens their health, we can inform you about the situation using the contact details provided.

The data is collected and stored on the basis of the legitimate interests of a third party pursuant to Article 6(1) sentence 1(f) GDPR. The "third party" is our employee, your relative. Our employee has a legitimate interest in our being able to inform you in the event of an emergency.

Categories of personal data

Personal data is any data that can be related to you personally. In this case, this is: surname, first name, telephone number, mobile number, email and, where applicable, information on your relationship to the person (e.g. spouse, child, parents).

Recipients or categories of recipients of the personal data

Employees of the Sächsische Ärzteversorgung who need this personal data to make contact in the context of the emergency notification. Where applicable, investigating authorities to clarify the circumstances of an accident.

No transfer to third countries and no transfer to an international organisation

Your personal data is not transferred to a third country or an international organisation, and no such transfer is intended.

Storage period of your personal data

We process and store your personal data only for the duration of the employment relationship of the person who named you as an emergency contact. After the employment relationship ends, your personal data is deleted or destroyed in compliance with data protection law.

Rights of the data subject

If personal data concerning you is processed, you are a data subject within the meaning of the GDPR and you have the following rights vis-à-vis the controller:

1. Right of access

Subject to the conditions of Article 15 GDPR, you may at any time request information from the controller as to whether and how your personal data is processed by us.

2. Right to rectification

Subject to the conditions of Article 16 GDPR, you have the right to have personal data concerning you rectified and/or completed by the controller if the processed data is inaccurate or incomplete. The controller must carry out the rectification without delay.

3. Right to restriction of processing

Subject to the conditions of Article 18 GDPR, you may request the controller to restrict processing.

4. Right to erasure and the "right to be forgotten"

Subject to the conditions of Article 17 GDPR, you may request the controller to erase your personal data and assert the right to be forgotten.

5. Right to notification

If you have asserted the right to rectification, erasure or restriction of processing against the controller, the controller is obliged to communicate this rectification or erasure of the data or restriction of processing to all recipients to whom the personal data concerning you has been disclosed, unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. Pursuant to Article 19 GDPR, you have the right vis-à-vis the controller to be informed about these recipients.

6. Right to data portability

Subject to the conditions of Article 20 GDPR, you have the right to receive the personal data concerning you which you have provided to the controller in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format.

7. Right to object

Subject to the conditions of Article 21 GDPR, you have the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of personal data concerning you which is based on Article 6(1)(e) or (f) GDPR. We will then no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing serves the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

8. Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

You may lodge a complaint with the data protection officer named above or with a data protection supervisory authority. The data protection supervisory authority responsible for us is the Saxon Data
